WATERBURY.

Death of Luke M. Lewis, Veteran of the Civil War.

Luke Monroe Lewis passed away at his home in North Duxbury Friday night, after a long illness with disease of the heart, contributing factor. He was born in Bolton July 16, 1840, the son of Hiram and Betsey Lewis. His parents were among the first settlers of Duxbury, living for some time on Scorable hill. The deceased is survived by two brothers and two sisters, Wesley Lewis, living in Caberville, Mich.; Herman Lewis of Bristol, Mrs. Sarah Sprague of Middlebury and Mrs. Phoebe Bidley of Bristol. In 1865 he was married to Miss Clara Fargo of Huntington, who survives him. Four children were born to them, two of whom died in infancy. The other two, Frank E. Lewis and Mrs. J. O. Young, have lived near the parents and with the mother have given tender care to the feeble father. Four grandchildren have also cheered him, Harold F. Lewis, L. George Lewis, Clark A. Young and Willie M. Young. Mr. Lewis enlisted in 1861 in Company E, Vermont's second regiment of Berdan's sharpshooters, and was honorably discharged after serving three years. The funeral was held from his late home Sunday morning, Rev. F. B. Kellogg officiating. Miss Price and Mrs. Palmer sang. The burial was in Huntington. Bearers were Frank Lewis, J. O. Young, Fred Davis and Ezra Fargo.

The Plumber After Longfellow.

Beside the luking bathroom tap The local plumber stands; With large and grimy hands; And the puzzle is the less he does The more his bill expands.

Week in, week out, all day to eve, I can hear each hammer blow, I can hear him fling his tools about From my sitting room below; And he keeps on ringing the bedroom bells. So the floor is up, I know.

He comes each morning to the house With one or two small boys; And when his tools are out of reach One hears his raucous voice, Shouting for what he may require And it makes one's heart rejoice.

Spoiling, rejoicing, soldering— Not where the leakage shows Each morning sees the job begun, Each evening's attempted, nothing's done. At 6 o'clock he goes.

Thanks to thee, unworthy friend, And the mess that thou hast wrought They're ruined, our hot water pipes, And new ones must be bought. Bother! Confound!—I cannot elapse Each burning word and thought. —Tit-Bits.

The city assessors had a record-breaking day on Saturday, about four hundred lists being received at the office in the city hall, and the taxpayers appearing almost in a stream. The assessors are pleased that the more prompt appearance of the taxpayers indicates the understanding that the taxpayers have not the whole of the month of April to turn in their inventories.

There will be a concert and dance in Woodmen's hall next Wednesday evening, April 13. McNelly's singing orchestra will provide music. It will be a public dance, and many special features will be given, including four moonlight dances, brass and male quartet and vocal selections by members of the orchestra. There will be a concert from 8 to 9, and dancing from 9 to 1.

Members of the Barre board of trade and women's clubs of this city are cordially invited to be present and take part in the conference that will take place after the address.

Calvin McKenzie, a boy 16 years of age, had a close call from serious injury Saturday afternoon at the Barre Granite & Quarry company's quarry in Graniteville. Just after work was resumed at 1 o'clock, the boy was pulling out and slack in the rope of the hoisting derrick, when the engine, not noticing the boy, started the drum, around which the rope winds. His head was jammed tightly under the drum. He was pulled out and, though conscious, the blood was streaming from a scalp wound several inches long on the left side of his head, just above the ear. There was also a slight cut over one eye and one hand was badly lacerated. The boy was taken to his home, and Dr. E. H. Bailey of Graniteville and Dr. J. L. Leonard of this city were called to attend him. Outside of the scalp wound, in which the doctors took a dozen stitches, he was not much injured, and it is thought that his recovery will be rapid.
